PETITIONING THE COURT

[X] To modify the conditions of supervision as follows:

A curfew is imposed as a special condition of supervised release. You must comply with the conditions of a curfew from 10:00 p.m. until 6:00 a.m. for the period of supervision. During this time, you will remain at your place of residence at all times and shall not leave except when such leave is approved in advance by the probation officer.

CAUSE

On January 10, 2020, the offender, John Willie Scott, Jr., was arrested by Savannah Police Department (SPD) officers on arrest warrants secured due to events documented from December 19, 2019. SPD records indicate that on December 19, 2019, officers were conducting evening surveillance in the area of 38th Street and Harden Street in Savannah, Georgia. Officers reported observing an individual identified as Michael McGlaughin conducting several hand-to-hand drug transactions from the porch of 2123 Harden Street. While watching McGlaughin, officers observed two other men in and around a red Kia sedan. Officers reportedly observed McGlaughin make multiple contacts with the driver of the Kia sedan. When officers attempted to make contact with the three men, McGlaughin and a second man, later identified as Amalh Bacon, were taken into custody. McGlaughin was charged with various drug offenses. SPD officers reported the driver of the Kia sedan started the vehicle, disregarded responding police and their emergency vehicles, and fled from the area at a high speed while also disregarding stop signs. Officer James Ward reported he was struck by the Kia sedan's passenger side mirror and door as the vehicle pulled away from the curb and fled from responding police.

Records indicate that soon after this incident, the offender's girlfriend reported her vehicle, a red Kia sedan, stolen. Once the vehicle was recovered, SPD officers conducted a follow-up investigation. Officers learned of the offender's identity, learned of his connection to the vehicle, and reported that he was identified as the driver who fled in the Kia sedan on the evening of December 19, 2019. SPD officers secured arrest warrants for the offender for the charges of reckless driving and fleeing to elude.

On January 10, 2020, SPD officers again reported observing the offender in the area of 38th Street and Harden Street. Records indicate officers attempted to make contact with the offender to take him into custody, but he fled from officers on foot. The offender was captured a few blocks away. Scott was released on bond on January 11, 2020.

On January 13, 2020, this officer met with the offender at the U.S. Probation Office in Savannah to discuss the arrest noted above. The offender claimed he did not know why warrants were issued for his arrest. The offender stated he was home babysitting his young siblings on the evening his girlfriend's vehicle was reported stolen.

The probation officer notes that the offender's instant offense of conviction took place in the same area of Harden Street as noted above. Scott does not live in that area and is obviously associating with individuals involved in drug sales.

On January 23, 2020, this officer again met with the offender at the U.S. Probation Office, Savannah. The offender was presented with the attached Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions of Supervised Release and he waived his right to a hearing. The offender agreed to the modification of his supervised release as indicated above, and signed the Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions of Supervised Release. The probation officer respectfully requests that the Court modify the offender's conditions of supervised release to impose a curfew requiring the offender to remain at home between 10:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m. unless approved in advance by the probation officer. This officer will continue to monitor the pending charges, and the Court will be notified if future violations occur.
